

Call for proposals for the competition within the Framework of Institutional Support for Research at Charles University in 2021 - PROGRES, Q21 „Text and Image in Phenomenology and Semiotics“ at FHS UK

The applications in the first round of the competition for operational resources to carry out research projects in 2021 are to be submitted by 22 March 2021, 1 p.m. The web application to submit your proposals is available at: veda.is.cuni.cz. The username and passwords are the same as those used for any other Charles University web applications. The Progres web application is bilingual (Czech – English). In case of doubt or problems you may also use the form attached and send it by email to Petra Holanová at petra.holanova@fhs.cuni.cz by 17 March 2021.

The main criterium of selection is the quality of the project and its contribution to FHS scholarly output based on the rules for the Methods for Evaluating Results in Scholarship and Research. With regard to this, the projects are assessed in five categories according to their priority. Please submit one application per project, choosing one of the following categories:

- A. Publications to be published in 2021 which will be transferred in the RIV (artistic output will be transferred in the RUV database).
- B. Publications to be published later which will be transferred in the RIV. (artistic output will be transferred in the RUV database)
- C. Active participation at conferences, research fellowships, fellowships of visiting researchers, organization of a conference. Please specify if there will be any output in the form of publications and if these will be transferred in the RIV.
- D. Publications which cannot be transferred in the RIV (editions, translations, text books).
- E. Technical and material support.

Applications filed in the categories A, B and D have to contain specific information about the publication; in case of monographs, the following annexes are required: 1) publisher calculation of the publishing costs, including VAT (for all invoices from abroad please take into account the invoiced amount plus VAT and consult the financial department at FHS), and an estimate of the profit made by publication sale 2) contract with a publisher and 3) reviews or expert opinions for the publisher, which the author of the publication is entitled to request from the publisher. If you do not have these annexes at your disposal, please attach a pdf-file containing your publication/article. In case of articles for journals, the author should also certify that these journals are listed in the ERIH or SCOPUS databases, or in the list of peer reviewed no impact factor periodicals published in the Czech Republic. Similarly, the costs of type C or E must be thoroughly specified or supported by relevant documents (price of the tickets, accommodation, conference fee), otherwise the applications will be rejected.

Should you have any questions regarding the above, please contact Petra Holanová (petra.holanova@fhs.cuni.cz) at the Department of Research. Before submitting the application filed in the C or E category please check with the secretary of the faculty that the costs of the requested material cannot be covered from other funds at the faculty.

The funds must be drawn by 3 December 2021, in time for the closing of accounts in the financial year. Please note that funds paid through “DPP” (agreements to complete a job) and stipends must be paid by 11 November 2021.

Petra Holanová will inform the applicants about the final decisions on funding by email.

In Prague on 10 February 2021
